Collected 92% Of 1958 Taxes

Although it may have been more difficult than a year ago, 92 percent of the town's taxpayers had paid their bill by the deadline Nov. 3.

Tax Collector James P. Christie said this is the same percentage as a year ago.

Through Nov. 3, taxpayers had dropped $1,822,225 into the town coffers. The total to be collected is $1,972,487.

Last year, with a total of $1,472,809 to collect, the payments by the Nov. 1 deadline were $1,360,678.

Bills were sent out in September this year, compared to earlier dates in past years. Due the first of October, the bills could be paid until Nov. 1. At that time, interest dating back to Oct. 1 is placed in effect. The tax collector's office was closed Nov. 1 this year.

Threw Scare Into Methuen's Rangers

Andover High's Blue Devils lived up to their name Tuesday afternoon, throwing a "devil" of a scare into the Methuen High Rangers, but costly miscues helped Methuen to a 26-14 victory.

But it was no soft touch for the unbeaten Rangers, as Andover's 1-4 team played nearly equal ball with the powerhouse from Methuen.

Andover led, 14-6, at the half, in a surprising reversal of pregame predictions that had Methuen winning by at least four touchdowns.

Two fumbles and a kickoff that was allowed to roll way back to the one-yard stripe gave Methuen its chance in the second half and the Rangers wrapped up the game quickly. Even so, the Blue Devils fought back, keeping themselves in the ballgame until the last whistle.

Grant Building Permit For New Car Showroom

Merit Pay OK'd By School Com.

The School Committee has adopted a merit plan, worth $500 to those teachers judged eligible, and has set a basic maximum salary of $5,800.

Acting Nov. 5, the Committee also approved retaining extras — pay for coaching, graduate degrees and extra curricula activities.

After lengthy debate, by a four-to-one vote, the Committee approved Member Frederick Allis Jr.'s motion that "We adopt a first merit increment as recommended by the salary evaluation committee for those teachers who apply for evaluation, starting with those who have served in the system the longest". Board Secretary William A. Doherty seconded the motion. Members Reta Buchan and Milton J. Meyers joined their two colleagues in favor, while Chairman Roy A. Russell was opposed. All members favored the $3,800 to $5,800 basic salary schedule, with the retention of extra pay for extra work.

Mr. Allis, speaking on the merit plan, said the teachers have had plenty of opportunity to look it over now. And he believed some of those opposed to it may change their minds once it gets started. The Teachers' Association had notified the Committee of a vote to approve a basic $6,000 maxi-

A building permit has been issued to Woodworth Motors Inc. for a 39x54 showroom on the lot at the corner of Haverhill and No. Main sts.

C. P. Woodworth appeared recently before the Board of Appeals to have restrictions imposed in 1953 eased or lifted, to allow this construction. But the building permit was issued — and the request before the Appeals Board withdrawn — after town counsel ruled that such a building is specifically allowed in the business zone.

Opposition from neighbors, including the insurance companies in the area, developed at the hearing some weeks ago. Atty. Halbert Dow represented some neighbors in objecting to the proposal and Atty. Walter Tomlinson, himself an associate member of the Appeals Board, but not sitting on this case, represented the insurance companies before the Board, objecting to the easing of some restrictions.

The permit was issued, last weekend and the storms of controversy broke over the heads of the Selectmen Monday.

Town Counsel Vincent Stulgis told the Board of Selectmen Monday night that the automobile firm has a right to build such a structure on the property, under a section of the zoning by-law. He also said the previous restrictions placed on the use of the corner lot "were arbitrary and capricious" and termed them "a nullity".

Serving on the Board of Appeals at that time were Edward P. Hall,

"Alice In Wonderland" On Stage Friday - Saturday

When the curtain rises on "Alice in Wonderland" tomorrow and Saturday afternoon at the Andover High School, and again next Wednesday afternoon in North Andover, there may be a scattered few in the audience who will sense that history is truly repeating itself.

"Alice in Wonderland" was presented by the November Club in Andover in 1911, and this year, Ellie Waterston, who plays the title role of Alice will be wearing the very same costume worn by that first "Alice", Mrs. Bartlett

Prisoner Of Reds Will Lecture Here

Hermann Field, guest speaker at the annual Open House of the Memorial Hall Library, will have as his subject "Angry Harvest", a novel born in a Polish cellar.

This novel is his own and the work of a fellow prisoner with whom he spent about five years, not allowed to go out of doors, to see anyone from the outside world, or to communicate with family or friends. Out of their desperation, the two men, Stanislaw Mierzenski, a Polish journalist and Hermann Field, American architect, "talked" stories and books to each other in their one common language, German. After months, Field found a way to force the guards to give him pencil and paper, and from the notebooks which they filled during the years, this long, beautifully written story has come.

Although the setting is that of German occupied Poland during World War II, the theme of the novel of which he will speak is mankind in general, the constant struggle between good and bad, the hidden world behind each man's motives. It is developed in the story of a girl fleeing from certain death to the protection of a man who believes himself to be good. Any reader will put down the book for a moment of careful introspection and a new evaluation of his own motives and deeds.

The library trustees and staff invite the public to enjoy a friendly half hour of refreshments after the talk. New books will be made reservable at Open House without charge, and through the usual postage payment during the remaining days of the week. Flower arrangements by the Andover Garden Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mitchell Johnson Jr., will add to the pleasure of the occasion. In the children's room, books for Christmas giving will be exhibited, so that parents may begin their Christmas book gift planning early.

Mr. Field has indicated that he will be happy to autograph any copies of his book which guests may care to bring to Open House.

All are most cordially invited. Doors will be open at 3 p.m. Mr. Field will speak at 4 o'clock.

Instruction Methods Explained To PTA

An explanation of the method of teaching reading in the Andover elementary schools was given by Miss Elizabeth Sylvester, reading consultant, to South School PTA members at their meeting Nov. 6 in the school cafeteria.

Miss Sylvester described the word recognition system now used, starting in the first grade, and stated that teachers know more about teaching reading than ever before. She added that understanding, interpretation and the use of the learned material for further basis for study are necessary in addition to learning to read the printed word.

Lionel A. Goulet, school principal, spoke to the parents concerning the school records kept on each pupil. In addition to test records kept by the school on intelligence and achievement, cumulative records, giving a complete picture of the child, are compiled by the teachers and staff. These include information on the health, family, marks, conduct, effort, work habits, reading and personality of each child. Mr. Goulet said that he hoped further records can be kept on each child's progress in reading.

James A. Watters, PTA president, conducted the business meeting following the program. The membership approved the year's budget as presented and methods of meeting the budget, described by Mrs. Robert Mears, Ways and Means chairman.

Refreshments were served by sixth grade room mothers with Mrs. George M. Moss, Hospitality chairman, in charge of arrangements.

Arrangements for the visit were made with the International Student Association in Cambridge, which works to create natural and friendly situations where foreign students can meet and become acquainted with people from New England communities.

Students from Korea, Holland, Germany and France will come here, according to Mrs. Emmons, chairman of the committee. Assisting her with the arrangements are Mrs. Alexander M. Wilson, Mrs. Alvin J. Zink, Miss May E. Elander and Mrs. William A. Pounds.

It specifies that team rosters and all dues must be submitted to the treasurer by Dec. 8. Boys not listed, but who wish to play, must have his name brought before all the coaches for approval.

The season will open Dec. 15 at the Junior High.

The 1957-'58 season was one of the most successful ever experienced by the League. Mr. Stewart reported that the League was entirely self-sufficient for the first time, ending the year with a $11 balance.

THREW SCORE INTO METHUEN'S RANGERS

Andover's first TD came quickly in the first quarter, as Fred Allen raced 66 yards. Andover had kicked off to Methuen, but a Walt Bleszinski interception set the stage for Allen's long run. The conversion added two points and the Blue Devils led, 8-0. Methuen, losing the ball at the Andover 36 on one occasion, finally put together a 50-yard march and Carmen DiAdamo, Ranger quarterback, speared over from the one. The conversion failed and Andover still led, 8-6.

In the second period, Jim McKiniry scored for the Blue Devils, after a 50-yard march down the field, sparked by Frank Emmett's hard running.

But then the law of percentages seemed to catch up. The Blue Devils stopped Methuen at its own 46, when DiAdamo tried to pass for a needed four yards on the fourth down. In six plays, the Blue Devils put the ball on the Methuen five. Fred Allen's 28-yard end sweep was spectacular in that series.

A delaying-the-game penalty put the ball back on the 10 and the Blue Devils were stopped cold. A rush and three straight pass attempts failed and Methuen took over. They had moved the ball to the Andover 14 when the half-time whistle blew.

In the third period, a Methuen score was averted when Bob Haggerty intercepted a pass right on his own goal line. Two plays later came the first fumble, with Methuen Co-Capt. Bernie Licata recovering. Halfback Bill Goterch took it over from the one a couple of plays later.

On the kick-off, just at the end of the period, Bleszinski let the ball roll, apparently thinking it had enough bounce to enter the end zone. But the ball dropped dead at the one and Bleszinski went down on the four under a horde of Rangers, as he tried to move the ball out of danger. On the first play in this dangerous spot, Licata recovered Andover's second costly fumble. Methuen scored three plays later.

Andover made one more drive, reaching midfield, but ran out of gas there. Methuen scored once more.

As the fourth period neared an end, the temporary wooden goalposts at the north end of the field went down. Although there was plenty of pushing and shoving, no fights developed.

Shortly after the final whistle, the Edward I. Erickson memorial trophy was presented to Methuen. Methuen also won the second year in the Little Three competition. They need one more sweep to get possession of the Little Three trophy.

A crowd estimated at 3000 watched the game. Throughout the contest there was plenty of excitement but at no time did the interest threaten to develop into heated argument. And on the field, there were few penalties, and none associated with roughness. Most spectators remarked on the hard but clean ball played by both teams.

The night before the game, many Methuen students were turned away from an Andover High dance, when they arrived in jeans and slacks rather than more formal attire. They milled around and started to paint the side of the High School, but police chased them away. Quick action by a custodian in wiping off the paint prevented any damage. Tuesday night, a group of Andover supporters went to Methuen and found part of the goal posts, carting them back to Andover in the early evening. Police at the game allowed Methuen supporters to take down the posts, as long as no fighting developed.

South Church Men Will Meet Nov. 19

The next meeting of the South Church Men's Club, Wednesday, Nov. 19, at the Church, will feature the Rev. Albert J. Penner, D. D. as guest speaker. Preceding the meeting, there will be dinner served at 6:45 p.m. All men of the community are invited to both dinner and meeting and are requested to make reservations through the committee or at the church office, by Nov. 17.

Prior to his outstanding work in New York, he was minister for 10 years at the Second Congregational Church in Holyoke, for seven years at the Edwards Congregational Church in Northampton, and before that at the Congregational Church in Stockbridge. He is known and admired by many Mt. Holyoke and Smith College alumnae who have heard him speak at chapel and other meetings during his ministries in those college communities.

The subject of Dr. Penner's discourse will be "A Prophet Not Without Honor".

necessitating the granting of an extra day for payments without interest.

Mr. Christie also made a quick comparison this week with his first full year in the office in 1938. That year, he collected a handsome total of $474,072 in all kinds of taxes, not just real estate.

"Gosh", he commented, "I handled that much in four days this year".

NEW QUESTIONS ADDED FOR BUS BIDDERS

The School Committee has adopted a questionnaire, to become part of any future bus bids, inquiring into the background of the bidder.

As suggested by Chairman Roy A. Russell and Secretary William A. Doherty, the Committee will seek information on past accidents, court convictions or physical impairments that might have an effect on the bidder's ability to drive the bus safely.

Plan Of Painting

At Addison Gallery

"The Plan of A Painting" currently displayed at Addison Gallery of American Art, is an exhibition analyzing one of the paintings in the museum collection: "Manhattan Bridge Loop" by Edward Hopper. The exhibit should be of practical interest to high school teachers in the nearby communities for it helps both student and teacher alike to look more closely at the problems of design with which an artist is faced, as well as understand how the artist has handled these problems and the effect his solution has on the painting itself. The explanations are intended for those who have no experience of art, as well as for those who do.

Concurrently on exhibition are two other exhibits: how to select art by looking, one exhibition the influence which one by examining selected group of advertising pages. All three of these exhibits were designed by the Addison Gallery and will be complemented by instruction at Phillips Academy, of which the Gallery is a department. All three involve innovations which invite the participation of the visitor who seeks to learn — a departure from traditional museum procedure — for the panels on which the exhibit parts

Andover Would Be Part Of Mutual Aid Program

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton, speaking for the Essex County Fire Chiefs' Association, outlined a plan for a county-wide radio network at a meeting with the county commissioners last Friday.

Hilton, with President Joseph E. Kelley of Danvers and Chief William B. Hunt of Haverhill, explained the workings of the system, which would be paid for by the county under legislation filed for consideration by the legislature.

Many chiefs, present at the meetings, agreed with the need for a radio mutual aid program. A few registered objections. The legislation, filed by the Association, would have the commissioners spend some $4,000 to set up the system atop a bill in Haverhill.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Call A Special Meeting

Well, we're all beginning to come around to the same point of agreement, after all.

Henry Wolfson of the Taxpayers' Association seems to have made up his mind to support garden apartment zoning, providing some safeguards are written into the building code. Others who opposed the zoning have been heard to modify their original statements.

The Selectmen, as of Nov. 3, again proclaimed their interest in obtaining the apartment project for the town - and more or less agreed that they, as individuals, should have taken to the floor of town meeting to say so.

And we have heard the president of the Taxpayers' Association state his position in favor of the zoning.

How nice.

But are we now engaged in an empty gesture, designed to appease those in the community who felt garden apartments would be an asset? Are all the kind words, particularly from those originally opposed to the project, meant to soothe the feelings, without producing positive results?

There seems to be some doubt whether the individual who wished to build this project is now interested.

And if he is, what must we do, having once dumped the fat in the fire, to assure the success of this zoning proposal when and if it comes up again?

Let's look at it this way:

The Industrial Development Commission has been given the specific job of evaluating this project in terms of its value to the community. That group should report very soon, on whether it believes the project would be a good one.

Safeguards, as proposed by Mr. Wolfson, could easily be incorporated in the zoning by-law, or the rules and regulations governing use of such a zone. Remember, too, that a three-man Board of Appeals must be satisfied that the project would be good for the town and agree unanimously on this point, before any construction could start. And on the basis of past performance, this group of three takes considerable convincing.

The language of the zoning by-law and the rules governing it need not be changed from that previously used at the special town meeting, except such additions as may be thought wise in line with Mr. Wolfson's proposals.

Why, then, can't the Selectmen summon a special town meeting within a month, to take action on this project?

If there is as much interest in it as seems indicated by the statements of public officials and private citizens, then such a decision would certainly be warmly received. We think this would be a step in the right direction, rather than waiting until the March town meeting, when there is no assurance that the developer would be available. He's already negotiating elsewhere in this immediate area.

Let's keep it in mind that the action at the last special town meeting was of such a nature that it could easily discourage industrial and commercial growth.

We saw all the town boards approve the project; a public hearing was held, at which no opposition was heard; differences of opinion over legal wording were worked out by the boards involved. In short, the developer had every reason to believe the project would be approved. The president of the Taxpayers' Association, who also is chairman of the Industrial Commission, told local representatives of the developer that he believed his Association would give its OK. Then town meeting came, opposition arose from the floor, and the whole project went out the window.

What sort of example is this to set for the future? How can any businessman, or industrialist, look at the facts in this case and feel anything but uncertainty over contemplated expansion within the town's borders?

We need to set the record straight for the future. The time to do it is this year, 1958. By the simple decision to call a special meeting, the Selectmen can give the town a chance to act again on a project that apparently was not sufficiently clear, but which now seems to be getting delayed support from its most ambitious detractors.

Why Not Announce Vote?

We've often wondered why town boards and some non-official groups, when making recommendations to the town meeting, do not indicate the vote by which the specific action was taken.

Specifically, in the deliberations of the Finance Committee, there may often be an occasion when a bare majority makes the decision, while a strong minority holds a contrary position. When the subject is debated at town meeting, shouldn't the voters be made aware of this fact? Isn't it important to know that, among the members of this group, there have been two schools of thought? This would avoid drawing the conclusion that the entire membership has agreed on one decision, because when this happens it tends to influence the meeting considerably. When there is a logical argument on both sides of the question, it would seem wise to acknowledge that this is true.

The same thought goes for the Taxpayers' Association, which apparently does not always unanimously agree on a position. Why should the voters be led to believe that the members of that board saw only one logical answer? Why not say that a majority saw it one way, and a specific number saw it the other? This would again give the voters a chance to weigh the recommendations properly.

Perhaps some consideration could be given to announcing the vote, specially in cases when the groups are almost equally divided. This appears to be a better method and a fairer one.

MERIT PAY PLAN WAS ADOPTED

Secretary Doherty reminded the Board that some teachers feared the evaluating system, with other teachers sitting in judgment. But he said those members of the evaluating committee would carry a burden of responsibility to be fair.

Dr. John P. Gainey, assistant to the superintendent, advised the Committee to move away from the set pattern of salary increases, where all teachers receive annual raises routinely. He also commented that the teachers seemed to be out of touch with the program and the work put into the merit plan by the salary evaluation group.

All members agreed that modifications will be made in the merit plan, as presented by the evaluating committee. Some discussion took place last week about appointing a teacher-evaluation committee but members agreed to wait for the next meeting Nov. 18 to discuss it again.

It was clear, from the action taken last week, that some money will be requested of the town next March to pay for merit raises. But there have been no figures set.

ARMY LAUDS HAWK: MANUFACTURED HERE

The Army claimed last week that its new Hawk anti-aircraft missile has proved itself in a test against "the fastest flying target available".

The demonstration was made at the White Sands, N. M., missile range, utilizing an XQ5 target missile, powered with a Ramjet engine and capable of speeds several times faster than sound.

The Army said instruments mounted in the warhead position on the Hawk showed the intercept would have been successful.

The Hawk, intended for use against supersonic speed aircraft and missiles flying at low altitude, was designed by the Raytheon Manufacturing Co. of Bedford. The XQ5 target missile was produced by Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Raytheon in Shawsheen Manufactures the missile for the Army.

Local Resident On Scout Staff

MISS REBEKAH TAFT

Miss Rebekah Taft, 232 Salem st., a member of the national staff, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., will be one of the discussion leaders at the New England Girl Scout Regional Conference at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston, Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

At this silver anniversary conference, at least 2,000 Girl Scouts adults and Senior Scout representatives will be gathered to hear the keynote speaker, Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, discuss "The Future and You".

There will be 18 group sessions geared to the different phases of Girl Scout activities as well as the four general sessions of business and inspiration. In each, girls from the local councils will be taking part in flag ceremonies and short pageants such as "The Living Trefoil".

The strength of Girl Scouting rests in the volunteer leadership of its adult members, both men and women, with skilled professionals serving in partnership to implement the volunteers' work. Miss Taft is, at the present time, a council advisor working out of the national Girl Scout branch office in Boston. Before her current assignment she had been on special assignments ranging across the country from agricultural areas in Colorado to a dense "Melting Pot" district in New York City. In New York Miss Taft worked on an experimental project to bring Girl Scout program activities to one of the most crowded urban districts in the country.

She had previously pioneered Girl Scouting for the daughters of migrant farm workers in Colorado. This experimental project covered the north-eastern, western and south-central sections of Colorado.

A former camp counselor and field director of the Pueblo, Colo., Girl Scout Council, Miss Taft has worked with UNRRA in the U. S. Zone in Germany and has served with the American Friends Service Committee mission to Hungary. In the United States she was executive secretary of the north-eastern division of the American Christian Commission for Refugees and was acting director of case work for the Unitarian Service Committee in Boston.

Born in Colorado Springs, Colo., Miss Taft attended Bryn Mawr College and has taken additional graduate work at Radcliffe College, Haverford College and Boston University's School of Social Work.

Missionary Will Speak Here

Mrs. John D. Hayes, Presbyterian missionary to China, will be the featured speaker at the Free Christian Church Sunday, Nov. 30.

She will speak at the regular morning worship service of the church on the subject, "A Report on Missions". Mrs. Hayes is the daughter of a Scottish minister who was pastor of St. George's Church, Edinburgh and she has lived with her family in China, the Philippines, and Hong Kong. She brings a stimulating interpretation of Asia to her listeners, both the Asia she has known by personal contact, and through continued contacts with Asians since her days in China.

During World War II, Mrs. Hayes and two of her children were held by the Japanese in the Philippines, while Mr. Hayes was interned in China. In 1948 she returned to China, and there with her husband worked under the direction of Chinese leaders in a missionary project financed by the Chinese Church itself. Later, Mr. Hayes was a prisoner of the Communists in China for nearly a year, an experience which was written about in the Reader's Digest of July, 1955, under the title, "The Brain-Washing of John Hayes". Mr. Hayes was the victim of an accident in 1955 and died as he served his car to avoid hitting an Indonesian boy who had fallen from his bicycle in front of the car.

Mrs. Hayes is a very popular speaker, bringing a new point of view and a challenge to Christian thinking about what is happening today in Asia. She also will speak at an evening meeting at the church, which is being planned by the Missionary Committee, of which Mrs. Hayes' son, John, serves as a member.

BUILDING PERMIT HAS BEEN GIVEN

who still is a member; Roy Har-and James S. Eastham.

Restrictions Listed

Some of the restrictions included in the decision include the type of lighting, advertising signs of limited size, the sort of hedge and fencing required, the type of access to be used. The ruling also specified that the owner of the property would have to apply to the Appeals Board for a permit to build on the lot.

It was to ease these restrictions that Woodworth went before the Board of Appeals most recently. He was advised at that time that he should come back with a plan showing the structure and other plans for the lot. That meeting was scheduled last Thursday, but was called off when Mr. Woodworth withdrew the entire request.

Atty. Roland Sherman, representing Woodworth, had advised town officials that nothing would be required except issuance of a building permit and town council agreement. This was done late Thursday afternoon.

Selectman Sidney P. White said Woodworth had agreed to do construction for 48 hours a week Monday night's meeting and it was agreed that town counsel would put his ruling in writing.

White suggested that Woodworth be asked to continue his petition before the Appeals Board, had once started it. But Dr. Wilbur V. Emmons and Stafford A. L. say both pointed out that it had been withdrawn and nothing could be considered by the appeals group.

Acting Building Inspector Ernie Hall insisted on having town counsel's ruling in writing, stating that he would not allow construction to begin until he had a statement.

He several times commented that issuance of the building permit was, in effect, just by-passing the Board of Appeals decision of 1953 which specified how such a permit must be obtained.

And there were general comments among the Selectmen and other town officials that they would inevitably be some wood feelings as a result of the action.

Mr. Stulgis pointed out to the building inspector that the laws specifically allow rooms and he said the inspector has no right to hold up or construction unless there is a violation of the building code.

He also mentioned that original hearing, in 1953, concerned itself with what use he made of a vacant lot. This problem is different, the council stated, as it is an application to build a building of specific on the lot.

Atty. Roland Sherman, representing Woodworth, had advised town officials that nothing would be required except issuance of a building permit and town counsel agreed. This was done late Thursday afternoon.

Selectman Sidney P. White said Woodworth had agreed to delay construction for 48 hours after Monday night's meeting and it was agreed that town counsel would put his ruling in writing.

White suggested that Woodworth be asked to continue his petition before the Appeals Board, having once started it. But Dr. William V. Emmons and Stafford A. Lindsay both pointed out that it had been withdrawn and nothing could be considered by the appeals group.

Acting Building Inspector Ernest Hall insisted on having town counsel's ruling in writing, stating that he would not allow construction to begin until he had the statement.

He several times commented that issuance of the building permit was, in effect, just by-passing the Board of Appeals decision of 1953 which specified how such a permit must be obtained.

And there were general comments among the Selectmen and other town officials that there would inevitably be some wounded feelings as a result of the action.

Mr. Stulgis pointed out to the building inspector that the by-laws specifically allow sales rooms and he said the inspector has no right to hold up or stop construction unless there is a violation of the building code.

He also mentioned that the original hearing, in 1953, concerned itself with what use could be made of a vacant lot. This problem is different, the counsel stated, as it is an application to build a building of specific size on the lot.

According to the discussion,

Woodworth intends to place the structure on one corner of the lot nearest the present garage. It will be built on "stilts", according to Mr. Hall, so that the ground-level area below can still be used for the sale of used cars. He also explained that there may be added construction later, although plans have not been forthcoming on any future structure.

Same Treatment
The question of allowing the construction in the area brought up the problem raised by some Shawsheen residents many months ago when the cleaning establishment was built on No. Main st.

Mr. Stulgis commented "you can't make fish of one and fowl of another". At that time, it had been ruled that the cleaners could be located where it now stands, because the by-laws specifically list this as a permissible use in the district. This is also true of the sales room proposed by Woodworth, he continued.

Opposition Disturbed
Mr. White said he had a telephone message from Atty. Dow objecting to the methods used in gaining the building permit and cancelling the Appeals Board hearing. White said Mr. Dow felt he, as a representative of some neighbors, had the right to see the plans as long as that was the procedure agreed upon at the previous Appeals Board hearing. White said Mr. Dow explained that there might be no objection to the structure, once the plans were examined, but that the way the matter was handled was objectionable.

It was explained at the meeting Monday night that Mr. Sherman was retained after the appeals hearing and that he then advised Mr. Woodworth to withdraw the request.

'Twas the month

Sat Mother and Father

Last year at this time,
Father had said,
Let's skip Christmas Club,
Save our own way instead.

But when it came time to put the money away,
There was always some reason they found to delay.

All of a sudden the months had flown by,
And there wasn't much saved,
in spite of the try.

But presents were needed and wrappings and frills,
So Mother went out and ran up

Now is the time for the bills

Just the other day a friend of mine dropped in to chat, and as we were talking, her eyes wandered around the store tables on which we are displaying an assortment of pins, earrings, and so on for $1.00. "Mildred, I never knew I could get such wonderful things for so little money," she exclaimed as she proceeded to pick out several items that appealed to her. ## Small Home Needs Sound Reducing Tile

High square-foot costs of home construction today has had a marked effect on the size of the average house. Rooms are smaller and closer together without separating hallways that add dollars to the building price.

This means that today's family must live more closely together with less opportunity to find a quiet corner for rest and privacy than ever before.

One way to counteract the lack of privacy inherent in this close compactness is to treat rooms to sound conditioning.

A sound controlling ceiling lends a quality of tone to a budget conscious house while contributing to living comfort.

Acoustical ceiling, in the new fissured woodfiber design, adds a decorative note to rooms. This beautiful tile called Forestone looks like travertine and comes from the factory already painted.

Phillips Beat Rival Exeter,
40-6, Before 6,000 Fans

Andover Academy, a solid favorite, rolled over Exeter 40-6 Saturday, Nov. 8, before some 6000 fans at Brothers Field as the two teams met in the 78th renewal of their traditional series.

The powerful Andover running game couldn't be stopped, grinding out 332 yards while Exeter just passed the century mark with 102. They were held to a mere 20 in the first half.

Ex-Lawrence High fullback, Andy Shea, the Blue and White's leading scorer, was a standout along with quarterback Mike Basset. Shea rolled up 106 yards rushing, scored one TD on a 12-yard run and hauled in a pass for two extra points. Shea's great running boosted his season's rushing total to over 700 yards for the year. Basset scored one touchdown and ran for 57 yards while playing a brilliant game at the signal calling spot.

Following the opening kick-off Shea ran 25 and Basset 29 to lead a drive to the Exeter five, from where fullback Alex Browne crashed over. Shea took a Basset pass for the extra points, which ended the scoring in the period.

Andover gathered momentum in the second period. Basset plunged over from the two after a 20-0 margin. Dick Jacunski gave Andover a 28-0 halftime lead taking a pass from Ward Wood at the eight and squirming across into the end zone. Basset rushed the points.

Early in the third period, Shea boosted Andover out front 34-0, slanting off tackle from the 12-yard line. Midway through the period, Andover tallied its final touchdown when Brock Kinnear streaked 21 yards after Exeter had failed to get a punt off on fourth down.

Sophomore Gary Wilson finally got Exeter into the scoring column in the final period. He set up the score running 26 yards to the Andover 13 and scored two plays later from the 10 yard stripe.

The victory was Andover's 41st in the long series. Exeter has won 31, while six games have ended up in ties.

SOPHOMORES SELECTED
PAYMENT PLAN

The first meeting of the sophomore class at the high school was held recently.

Robert McIntyre gave a brief introduction of the duties of sophomores. He explained the expenses for the three years in High School. The total is approximately $3,000, divided in this manner—$2,000 for the yearbook, $500 to $800 for the Junior Prom, $500 for Senior Class dinner and other functions. The class voted on the $6 a year dues. As sophomore money-raising funds for this year, two dances will be held. The process of electing a home room treasurer and a class council was discussed.

Big Change Due If Redistricting Comes

A proposed plan for revising congressional districts, prepared by Atty. Charles G. McGlue of Boston, would make substantial revisions in the fifth district now represented by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers.

Redistricting may now be possible, with the election of Democratic majorities in both branches of the state legislature and the re-election of a Democratic governor.

The plan as seen by Mr. McGlue would have the fifth district changed to include Middlesex County cities and towns, plus two wards in Boston.

Andover would fall into the seventh district, under the proposal, including Lawrence and many Essex County communities plus Lowell, Tewksbury and Dracut in Middlesex County.

The sixth district, under the plan, would include lower Essex County towns and cities, plus Revere in Suffolk County.

From the appearance of the plan, political experts agree that Democrats would be likely to win in the shuffled districts.

Devised As Follows
Under the realignment proposal the three districts in this area would be devised as follows:

Fifth — Acton, Bedford, Belmont, Burlington, Cambridge, Concord, Dunstable, Groton, Lexington, Lincoln, Pepperell, Townsend, Tyngsborough, Watertown, Westford and Woburn in Middlesex County and Wards 22 and 22 in Boston (Suffolk County).

Sixth — Beverly, Danvers, Essex, Gloucester, Hamilton, Lynn, Lynnfield, Manchester, Marblehead, Middleton, Nahant.

Building Permits For Car Sales

Another round in the battle between Woodworth M. Co. and the town came to an early this week, as the building inspector withdrew the building permit for a new car salesroom had issued to Woodworth Nov.

It is anticipated that the round will find Woodworth appearing again before the Board of Appeals, which heard an earlier petition on the same subject.

Background Info
Some weeks ago, Mr. Woodworth asked the Board of Appeals to modify or remove restrictions on the use of a corner lot at Hill and No. Main sts., so he could construct a new car salesroom. The Board had set restrictions on the property back in 1911, giving Mr. Woodworth the right to use it for the sale of second-hand cars within the framework of building controls. The Board then speci-
